Important Information

Travelers must carry a government issued photo ID (domestic travel only) or passport (valid at least 6 months beyond the return date with 2 unmarked consecutive pages). For flights or other scheduled transport, each segment must be used in the order of travel date or subsequent travel may become invalid with no recourse to refund or change (dependent upon original ticket conditions).

You are responsible for complying with any airline's terms and conditions in relation to check-in and reconfirmation of flights. Please note each ticket carries its own unique terms and conditions including expiration dates and conditions of use. Check the airline's fare rules on their website for more information.

Check-In Information
Please check the airline's website for online check-in. For low-cost airline bookings, please note that the majority of these carriers often mandate that the traveler checks in and prints the boarding pass prior to arriving at the airport. Please check on the low-cost carrier's website for further information.
